

I claim:

1. An anti-twist key lock with changeable locking device, which comprising:

a key lock case, the key lock case having a close end and an open end, 5 the circumference of the open end having a slit and an opposite inner groove, the circumference of the key lock case near to the close end having a through hole;

a locking bar installed in the said through hole and a compression spring deposited at bottom of the locking bar to push it outwardly;

10 a locking tumbler set installed in said key lock case, the locking tumbler set having an interlocking post formed at its end, the interlocking post can be rotated by a key to push the locking bar inwardly or outwardly; a front plug, one side of the front plug having a fitting part, on circumference of the fitting part having a receiving groove, the center of the 15 front plug having a key hole, the fitting part of the front plug can be pushed into said open end of the key lock case;

a locating retainer, the locating retainer can be inserted through said slit into said receiving groove to clip the front plug and make it can be rotated freely.

20 2. An anti-twist key lock with changeable locking device as claimed in claim 1, wherein two side of the front plug is formed into wavy shape to make it can be supported on said slit and said inner grove.

3. An anti-twist key lock with changeable locking device as claimed in claim 1, wherein the front plug have a plurality of retaining grooves.